

SESSION # 533

THE RIDE BY KEISER RIDE READY

Presented by: Krista Popowych kristap@keiser.com IG: kristapopowych
Sergio Velasco sergiov@keiser.com IG: sergiov.1

Overview: Jumping on the saddle, cranking the tunes and teaching the first drill that comes to mind is no longer status quo. Today's indoor cyclist want and expect more. In this session, learn how to put together workouts that are correctly based on intensity to align with specific physiological goals. Using Keiser's proven method of designing workouts, riders will get the results they want within the style of class they like. Whether it's beat, HIIT or power-based, Ride Ready is an efficient and effective class planning tool.

Ready, Set, Go!

Understanding the Styles and Likes of Various Riders

- Always consider 'who' you are teaching to.
- Classes are made up of individuals with various skill sets, fitness levels and interests.

3-Styles of Workouts:

- Ride Rush (HIIT-based)
- Ride Rhythm (Beat-based)
- Ride Race (Power-based)

Ask the question? If you like ... you'll love this ride...!

Rush

Interval-focused, covering all terrains and delivers HIIT in an empowering and fun way.
Example – Interval Drills such as Tabata's 20s:10s, Short Extreme Intervals 30:15, etc.

Rhythm

Beat focused, connecting with the rhythm and pulse of the music for an energizing ride.
Example – Beat-Driven Climbs, etc.

Race

Power focused, delivering challenging terrains and metric-focused drills in an effective way

Example – FTP tests, Power Drills, Distance Drills, etc.
